

GENDER INEQUALITY

Abstract

Gender inequality is a situation that women and men don't stand equally in the society. They accept unequal treatment just because of natural gender differences.

What leads to Gender Inequality?

Historical Background / Religion / Value / GDP / Education level

Common Gender Inequality problems

The gender inequality problems has existed in both developed and developing areas , keeping happening in our daily lives.

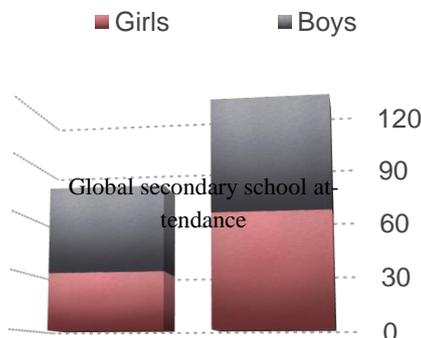

Severe ones

- 1.Lack of political rights of women.
- 2.Restrictions of women's wearing.
- 3.Lack of legal protection of women's safety

Potential ones

1. Gap of social status between males and females.
2. Difficulty of getting promoted to a higher position.
3. Changing last names after women getting married.

(Source: the United Nations)

How do we take action in Taiwan

1. Gender equality education starting from nine years old.
2. Ensure seats for women in National Assembly to guarantee women's political right.
3. Various exhibitions held to promote gender equality in campus.
4. Numerous employees benefits for female

Organization dedicated to gender equality

UNESCO

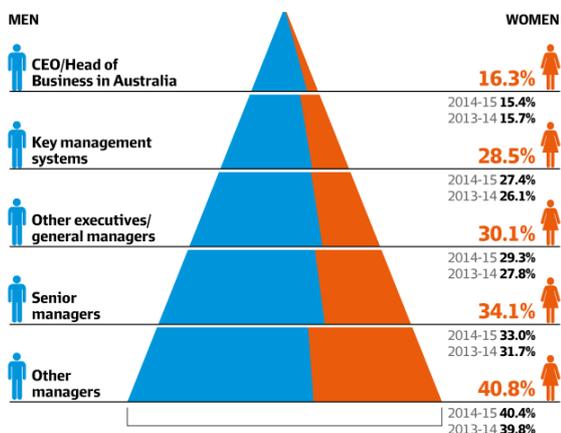

Improving the quality of learning environment for kids by fostering gender-sensitive and gender-responsive policies and strategies in education.

CARE

Claiming that there are hundreds of thousands of children experiencing or witnessing sexual assault and other gender-based violence, they address in every program to make an equal world free of poverty.

Conclusion

The idea of gender inequality is totally an unfair and inhuman phenomenon to females from all the world and should be changed by developing a perfect education and values toward gender.

SOURCE: WORKPLACE GENDER EQUALITY AGENCY