

FOREWORD

Currently, the pandemic is a challenge in developing creativity in the use of technology in education. Furthermore, it is also a challenge for the world of education to collaborate in establishing multilateral activities, including the limited activities of direct meetings and collaboration projects.

Therefore, with technological developments that have adapted to the current pandemic conditions, the existing challenges can slowly be overcome. Which, one of them is with a virtual meeting. This gives a good idea to hold a virtual conference that can have a positive impact in opening relations with other organizations or countries.

The development of technology also makes it easier for the younger generation to learn about thousands of cultures in the world. However, sometimes it becomes vague with its own culture. Culture is the identity of a nation. By learning and feeling proud of one's own culture, and promoting it to others is also a way to better understand and appreciate the culture of one's culture and other countries as well. Thus, it can create mutual understanding and world peace.

The two things mentioned above provide creative ideas for realizing virtual cultural exhibition activities. Where, this activity will involve several countries, namely Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, South Korea, Russia, and Chinese-Taipei. On this occasion, each country represented by schools from each country involved will exhibit one of its cultures which will be displayed beautifully and explained through presentations that will be displayed by the students.

Through this virtual cultural exhibition, it can provide opportunities for students to love and be proud of their culture. In addition, they can also learn about the culture of other countries.
