Bamboo Forest

Abandoned bamboo groves are becoming a social problem due to price competition with imported bamboo shoots and abandonment of cultivation by aging farmers. People used to go into bamboo groves to get wood for firewood and tools. However, with the advent of petroleum fuels and plastics, people stopped entering bamboo groves, and the devastation has increased. The NGO "Yabu no Soba" is practicing maintenance of a 1700m<sup>2</sup> area that has become a neglected bamboo grove.

Hogonin Temple

The "Shishiku Garden" was created by a Zen monk during the Muromachi period (1336-1573).

The name "Shishiku" means "Buddha preaching," and by strolling through the garden and feeling the garden with all five senses, one can feel the psychology of life and the right path.

November is the best season to see the beautiful autumn foliage scenery.
